

Put pennies in this can.

Ask people you know to save their pennies for you.

Make a can for a friend, too, and then you both can collect pennies. This can is going to get really heavy.

When it is full, ask someone at the bank if they will count your pennies in their coin counting machine and give you dollars and larger coins in exchange. You can watch it count, which is really fun. It's a very cool machine, or you can use paper coin rolls. That's fun, too, although it takes a while.

Then have your parents or teacher take that money and send a check for the same amount to Episcopal Relief and Development.

Send an e-mail to:

WhatsHerName@Geraniumfarm.org

Tell WhatsHerName your name, where you live, and how much money was in your can. Remember that WhatsHerName is a cat! Your name will be posted on the Farm, together with what your money did for children and families in need.

Visit ERD at www.er-d.org and read about all the ways they help people. Visit the Farm, too at www.geraniumfarm.org You can light a candle there for yourself or a person you know who needs help.

The Geranium Farm.

Down-to-earth support for living.

